

Spain's climate makes it a great place for solar PV farms. Naturgy is one of those to have developed projects in the country. Image: Naturgy. A Madrid-headquartered developer has proposed a solar-plus-storage system in Spain with a 100MW/200MWh battery energy storage system (BESS).

With Spain's auction mechanism foreseeing a total of around 19.4GW of renewables to be assigned by 2025 and the country looking to reach 30GW of storage capacity by the end of the decade, Labanda said the government should start work on a new storage-friendly framework as soon as possible as it could take up to two years to create.

The European energy storage sector is at a pivotal ...

An increasing number of PV park developers and owners in Spain combine their assets with battery storage and wind turbines. Besides providing this hybrid solution, batteries can provide grid balancing services in Spain much cheaper than gas- or coal-fired power plants, if there would be a free market for these services.

Fortunately, the retrofitting of battery storage systems in Spain is unproblematic from a regulatory perspective. The existing feed-in point can be used for so-called hybridisation, although this means that the maximum feed-in capacity is capped by the existing grid connection. This means that if the grid connection was originally granted for ...
