Can you store condensate in a storage facility?

anyway.. when you have access to the condensate storage you can store it,you can make multiple trips into leap of faith,get some,bring it to your storage facility and distribute it...

How do you produce a condensate?

You don't actually produce the condensate,you merely collect it (manually) from the ancient object that produces it. Once you transport it back to network space,via whichever means you choose,you can then automate its distribution. Originally posted by null ():

How many condensate transports can a behemoth carry?

FYI: you could,theoretically,load 44 Condensate transportsonto a Behemoth and transport them all through at the same time. Get two of these "fleets" and you could exchange them every hour IF you could figure out the timing.

You can get the condensate storage in one of the choices you make at the end of the quest chain. You can then store condensate on a station.

Because apparently the only way to utilize anomalies is for me to directly pilot a ship through them, I'm trying to figure out the best way to automate Protectyon distribution. So far my best idea (which still seems pretty dumb) is to fit out 2 carriers/auxillary ships with a large number of Raleigh (Condensate) ships. Then when the spoiler event happens that allows ...

However, the structure keeps falling, and got the the message "The station does not have protection against the Tide." in the construction planning UI.

Hey guys, just had a couple of quick questions. I've googled but it is surprisingly difficult to find good X4 plot stuff online. So, here we go: 1. I am at the part of the TOA plot where you are on the yacht with the twins and you have to decide how to proceed (Northriver or strike out on your own). What do these decisions cause? In my play through, I have done a pretty ...

Water is actually stored in container storage. Think of it as barrels of water. Here is a breakdown of the storage types: Liquid: Hydrogen, Helium, and Methane (delivered by gas miners) Solid: Ore, Silicon, Ice, Nividium (delivered by mineral miners) Container: Everything else

The amount of storage a station uses for food is insignificant compared with the amount the production modules will use. To put it in perspective a station which supplies the entire PAR and HOP space with energy and food only needs 1 L container storage and that includes using some of that storage for intermediate products.

As others have mentioned, there is a quest you get once you enter avarice. The first thing you do is rescue a Teladi from his damaged ship. Once you have progressed through the quest line to "Leap of Faith" you will have to make a choice: steal the condensate blueprint and have the twins put a bounty on your head, which makes Vigor very hostile.
